TRADE CONDITIONS IN BELGIUM.

A correspondent in Brussels has sent us the following information concerning industrial conditions and the securing of contracts in this country: Relatively speaking, Belgium is one of the first countries in the world on the industrial market. This is rather a broad statement, but it is none the less true, and is borne out by recent statistics. During the year 1901 her foreign trade amounted to 4 milliards, 100 million francs. The population of the country was about 6,800,000 inhabitants, that is, then, an average of 595 francs per person. Holland alone exceeds these figures; but that country owes her superiority not to her industry, but to her commercial houses. Belgium, relatively speaking, is then at the head of all nations of the world [illegible] international market. The Belgium [illegible] an industrial nation par excellence.

We have a still further fact. According to the [illegible] inhabitants out of a [illegible] are employed in the different [illegible] is to say, that nearly one [illegible] population devote themselves [illegible] industrial pursuits.

The industrial activity [illegible] country naturally gives rise to forei[illegible] There is a lack of tropical products [illegible] mineral substances in Belgium. [illegible] do not supply all the raw [illegible] resources its various industries. [illegible] necessary for sought from abroad. [illegible] en, must be tion few European countries [illegible] connecstacles to the foreigner in [illegible] less obfully on the industrial [illegible] successNo prejudice whatever exists [illegible] Belgium, the nationality of competitors [illegible] regard to there is a certain amount [illegible] although national pride for the sake [illegible] rotism and enterprise, this in no way [illegible] of home the government or of individuals [illegible] the eyes of ciples of economy. In some cases [illegible] to the protion from duty is granted for [illegible] prices exempmaterial required for naval [illegible] stance, for in this alone will be seen [illegible] uction. And the foreigner enjoys. Quality [illegible] favor which cellency of workmanship, the [illegible] aterial, exreputation of bidders, are all [illegible] erience and balance, together with the [illegible] ded in the of nationality. [illegible] regardless

One of the first things the [illegible] lgian looks for in giving contracts is the [illegible] ashing of a guarantee for their fulfilment. [illegible] Very often it happens that the guarantee [illegible] more dissussed and looked into than [illegible] prices themselves. Absolute guarantee for [illegible] execution of the contract, payment of [illegible] alties for non-fulfilment, assurance of [illegible] executing work by a certain time, etc., must be [illegible] early stated in all tenders, and the value of the guarantee is estimated by the reputation of the firm, its experience, extent of [illegible] capital, etc.

There is another very important point, and one which is often overlooked by manufacturers: that is, the necessity of having a representative in the country familiar with the language and customs of the people. Too much stress cannot be laid on this point, for the Belgian is rather skeptical with regard to prospectuses and catalogues. It very often happens that he cannot understand them. And with reference to illustrations of machinery, etc., he believes that photography always increases the beauty of a thing much beyond the original. Personal contact is necessary as a certain method of competing successfully; this is so keenly felt that every year foreign houses are opening offices in Belgium or sending over their agents to conduct a campaign.

The fact must not be lost sight of, however, that manufacturers must contend with the low wages prevalent in Belgium. Labor is so cheap in this county that the best manufactured articles can be produced at prices which defy the keenest competition, and for this reason many American houses have established themselves on Belgian soil, so as to better compete with other American manufacturers.

Nothing, then, stands in the way of American houses desirous of securing Belgian contracts. The principal element is promptness in acquiring information and constant touch with the government and individuals, a knowledge of what transpires on the various industrial and commercial exchanges, and an intimate acquaintance with the general requirements of the country at large.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

THE HELWIG MFG. CO., St. Paul, Minn., has recently placed on the market a larger size pneumatic staybolt clipper to cut 1½-in. staybolts and less; in all other respects it has the same desirable features as their smaller pneumatic clipper, which cuts up to 1¼-in. bolts, that is, having small inserted knives readily replaced at little cost, cutting off the bolts of any desired length straight and smooth, ready for riveting.

THE RAIL JOINT CO., 71 Broadway, New York, was organized last week by filing a certificate of incorporation, with a capital stock of $1,500,000, of which $1,000,000 is common stock and $500,000 preferred stock. The officers of the company are: President, Frederick T. Fearey; Vice-Presidents, Lawrence F. Braine and Percy Holbrook; Fernando C. Runyon, Treasurer, and Benjamin Wolhaupter, Secretary. This company will take over the business and properties of the Continuous Rail Joint Co. of America, the Weber Railway Joint Manufacturing Co. and the Independent Railroad Supply Co.

THE KILBOURNE & JACOBS MFG. CO., 645 Railway Exchange Bldg., Chicago, Ill., and Columbus, O., has secured the order from the A., T. & S. Fe R. R. for 325 special cylinder cars, to be delivered in December for their tie-treating plant at Somerville, Tex.—The Michigan Alkali Co. has ordered from the Kilbourne & Jacobs Co. 25 more standard gage 15-ton dump cars for their works at Wyandotte and Alpina, Mich., to be delivered in November.

THE NORTH CAROLINA GRANITE CORPORATION, Mt. Airy, N. C., is now installing a Sullivan Corliss, two stage air compressor, for driving the Sullivan drills and other compressed air appliances used at its quarries. This compressor has a capacity of 2,000 cu. ft. of free air per minute, at 78 revolutions. The air cylinders are connected to a Sullivan Corliss, cross-compound condensing steam end, especially designed and proportioned for this purpose. The air inlet valves are of the Corliss type, operated by independent eccentrics, and the discharge valves on both cylinders are of the automatic poppet type, moving in a direction parallel with the piston rod, with removable seats located in the cylinder heads. A similar machine is installed at the works of the Southern States Portland Cement Co., at Rockmart, Ga.

THE WESTINGHOUSE MACHINE CO., of East Pittsburg, Pa., has secured orders for its Roney mechanical stoker; one from the Jones & Laughlin Steel Co., of Pittsburg, calls for sixteen 114-in. by 24 grate stokers, one from the Lehigh Valley Traction Co., Philadelphia, calls for eight 130-in. x 20 grate stokers, and another from the Pressed Steel Car Co., Pittsburg, covers six 100-in. x 20 grate mechanical stokers. These stokers are of the inclined rocking grate type, with removable fuel plates, and are provided with the necessary actuating mechanism for automatically controlling the motion of the grate-bars and the supply of fuel. They will burn low grade bituminous coal without smoke. In addition to these orders, smaller ones have been received from the Brown Shoe Co., St. Louis; the Water, Light & Gas Co., of Hutchinson, Kan.; Wm. Wanton Dunnell, of Aponaug, R. I.; Penn. State College, State College; Penn. Heat & Power Co., Wilkinsburg; Merchants' Light, Heat & Power Co., Canton, O; Schlitz Brewing Co., Milwaukee; United Shoe Machinery Co., Beverly, Mass.

THE PUBLIC LIGHTING COMMISSION, of the City of Detroit, Mich., which established early in the nineties the first municipal lighting plant in America of high grade and considerable size, has just placed an order with the Westinghouse Machine Co., of East Pittsburg, Pa., for a 2,000-KW. turbine type generating unit, following this order shortly afterwards with a second order for a machine of the same size. In the equipment of its power house on the river front in the center of the business district of Detroit, the Commission has heretofore used vertical engines of the compound marine type. The early generator equipment was of the D. C. series type, the generators being rope driven from the vertical engines. Later the system was gradually replaced by the more modern A. C. series arc system, with A. C. generators of the direct-connected type. The two new units will be installed in the original building, replacing some of the rope-driven machinery. Turbines will be of the standard Westinghouse-Parsons type, operating at a boiler pressure of 160 pounds without superheat and at a normal vacuum of 28 inches. The generators will also be of standard Westinghouse design, of the revolving field type, and with the enclosed generator frame construction.

THE B. F. STURTEVANT CO., of Boston, is furnishing forge equipments for the Carnegie Technical Schools, Pittsburg; J. L. Mott Iron Works, Trenton, N. J.; Chanler Planer Co., Ayer, Mass., and the Pennsylvania R. R., at its Reading shops. The magnitude of the heating problem in large shops and factories and the adaptability of the blower system thereto is evidenced by recent orders taken by the Sturtevant Co. for heating and ventilating equipment for the blacksmith, erecting and carpenter shops of the Wheeling & Lake Erie R. R. Co., Canton, O., containing nearly 1,250,000 cu. ft. of space; the new ordnance shop of the Midvale Steel Co., Nicetown, Pa., containing over 5,000,000 cu. ft. of space; and the silk mill of the Woodhouse, Bopp & Co., Pittsburg, Pa., which contains over 1,000,000 cu. ft. of space. The Erie R. R. is installing roundhouse heating systems furnished by the Sturtevant Co. for its houses at Salamanca, N. Y.; Port Jervis, N. Y.; Meadville, Pa., and Cleveland, O. The Boston Elevated Ry. is to replace its present design of economizers by large machines of special construction manufactured by the Sturtevant Co. Two of these will be installed at the Central Power Station on Albany St., and the third at the East Somerville Power Station. Kullman, Salz & Co., Benicia, Cal., are installing a complete leather drying outfit furnished by the Sturtevant Co.

The various stations and shops of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co. save installed a variety of products manufactured by the Sturtevant Co. for the equipment of plants of this class. In the various sub-stations are no less than ten steel plate fans especially designed for cooling transformers. In one of its shops is a complete heating and ventilating system consisting of fan, heater and distributing pipe. In another is a forge shop equipment, together with an exhauster for removing smoke, while a large cupola furnace is supplied with a Sturtevant pressure blower. Among recent sales of mechanical draft equipment made by the Sturtevant Co., are those for the boiler plant of the Baltimore & Ohio R. R. Co., Chilicote, O.; Chesebrough Mfg. Co., Perth Amboy, N. J.; Hillside Coal & Iron Co., Mayfield, Pa.; Castle Realty Co., N. Y.; Diamond Ice Co., Wilmington, Del.; Athens Waterworks, Athens, O.; St. Paul Gas Light Co., St. Paul, Minn.

SIX MILLION DOLLARS LOST

by not advertising contracts in ENGINEERING NEWS. In Major Gillette's report on the Philadelphia Filtration Plant, he says:

> "There was no advertising for this large contract in any of the engineering journals, where contractors look for such notices."

Are you going to lose money by failing to secure adequate competition? ENGINEERING NEWS reaches more contractors than any other engineering weekly. The rate for proposal advertising is $2.40 per inch—nothing compared to the saving that may result.
